

HARAS DE PIRQUE

RESERVA DE PROPIEDAD

Classification

Reserva de Propiedad, Maipo Andes Valley - Chile

Grape variety

Cabernet Sauvignon, Carménère and Syrah

Vintage

2018

Climate

The 2018 growing season was dominated by mild temperatures and sunny, breezy weather. Timing of the harvest progressed normally, and grapes were picked by hand during the month of April. This year's relatively cool climate encouraged the development of soft tannins with great elegance.

Vinification and aging

Each individual vineyard block was fermented separately to enhance the wine's supple, elegant tannins. After racking, the wine was transferred into French oak barriques where malolactic fermentation and aging took place. The wine was then blended and bottled.

Alcohol content

13.5% by Vol.

Historical data

The estate's vineyards are located in the Maipo-Andes Valley. Select vineyard parcels that produce Reserva de Propiedad are cultivated using the principles and methods of organic viticulture in order to preserve and enhance the territory's characteristics.

Tasting notes

Reserva de Propiedad is a rich red color with violet highlights. Its nose is impressive for spicy and herbal notes that blend with fruity sensations of fresh strawberries and plums. The palate offers hints of tobacco with light, smokey and spicy aromas. Reserva de Propiedad is a wine that fully expresses the place of origin of its fruit.

Recommended pairings

Velvety, pleasant tannins pair perfectly with soft cheeses, soups and light first courses.
